

Football : Football is one of the most famous and loved sports in all over the world. Apart from it, it is one such sport that keeps mind and body fit and healthy. Lot of schools colleges conduct this sport tournament, many inter college football matches is also played is also termed as one of the best sport to play even in rain. And the most awaited championship is the FIFA world cup which is conducted in every four years, termed as the most loved championship by millions of people. This is the game of 90 minutes of thrill and excitement, where within a second the point scores of the game can be changed. And the other team can win. This sports is usually played between the two teams of eleven players using only one football who compete to get the ball in the other team goal posts thereby scoring a goal , if the both teams scored the equal number of scores then the game is a Draw. And the winning team is decided by a penalty kicks. The primary law of the game is that the players cannot handle the ball with the hands or arms during the play, although players use their feet to move around the ball even their heads for heading. A Referee is also associated with the players to watch any kind of misconduct of games rules and can make the player out of the game. There are certain leading football players like Kylian Mbappe,Lionel Messi in the world.